County approves new hospital, old facility attracts no bids

BY DENA BISNETTE
The Hancock County Board of Supervisors is now down to one hospital building.

On Friday, the board turned the keys to Hancock Medical Center over to Hospital Administrator Phillip Wolfe, after approving the construction as substantially complete.

Some paving work remains to be done next week, but the building itself is almost ready for use, said Wolfe.

The hospital staff is expected to start moving its equipment from Hancock General Hospital on Dunbar Avenue to Hancock Medical Center, located off Drinkwater Road, as soon as possible.

The board, however, was unable to sell Hancock General Hospital, a county-owned building.

A 10 a.m. bid opening at Friday's meeting lasted only as long as it took to announce that no bids had been received.

The possibility of selling the building had caused a split in the board when proposed several weeks ago, with three board members for selling the hospital and two against the move.

Those voting against the move were Beat One Supervisor Bert Courrage and Beat Three Supervisor Roger Dale Ladner.

At the time, Ladner advocated letting some local entity buy the building. The Bay St. Louis-Waveland School District, which has since proposed a long-range building program, had expressed interest in using the old hospital for administrative offices.

Courrage wanted to use the building for the Hancock County Welfare Department, the county's senior citizens' program and other county agencies.

Now a new controversy has started over what should be done with the old hospital and how failure to obtain a bid will affect a proposed grant application for new quarters for the Welfare department.

Kathy Moon of Gulf Regional Planning Commission, who has been assisting the county with the application for a Community Development Block Grant, said there are two new factors affecting the possibility of obtaining a grant.

The board had originally decided to apply for a grant for new construction, but Courrage is now pushing for an application for funds to renovate the old hospital as quarters for the Welfare department.

Moon said there is a slightly better possibility of obtaining a grant for the renovations.

In addition, the supervisors have been forced to decide between two potential grant projects.

One of the projects would have provided a water system for two communities located back-to-back on the Hancock-Pearl River County line.

Moon said Harvey Nixon, an independent consultant, has twice filed for a grant for a water system for Catahoula, located in Hancock County, and Steep Hollow, located in Pearl River County.

She said, she had talked to the funding agency in Jackson and had been told that Nixon plans to file again this year for the same project, which was turned down last year because Pearl River County still had an outstanding grant on a new building for its Welfare department.

Moon explained the county would have to choose which project to try to fund, because each county is allowed only one application per year.

In addition, any county previously provided grant money must have spent a specific percentage of funding before any additional money may be obtained.

The board voted four to one to purchase the old hospital—Page 7A

Bay planning commission votes against zoning change

By BRENDA HEATHCOCK
The Bay St. Louis Planning and Zoning Commission voted to recommend the denial of a rezoning request for a parcel of land at 132 Sycamore St. from residential to commercial.

Commonly known as the site of the "Old Globe Laundry," the zoning change was requested by Paul Salesberg of Pass Christian who wanted to open a fiberglass boat repair shop in the building.

Several area residents appeared at the meeting to oppose the zoning change and also presented a petition.

$625,000 bid received on utility project

Settlement of $200 million lawsuit against Bay St. Louis expected soon

By BRENDA HEATHCOCK
Utility system improvements in a $625,000 project to be presented to the Bay St. Louis City Council Tuesday are expected to facilitate the settlement of a $200 million lawsuit against the city.

Improvements included in the project are the installation of water lines and fire hydrants to provide city water and fire protection services in the annexed area.

The lawsuit was filed in 1982 by annexed area residents seeking city utility services and amenities originally expected to be installed within five years of the 1967 annexation of the area.

The plaintiffs won the $200 million court judgment last year when the attorney for the city failed to appear in its defense. However the group later said it would work with the city to settle the issue if a schedule of installation of utility services was agreed upon.

Mayor Victor J. Frankiewicz Jr. said he will recommend the council accept the low bid of Magnolia Construction Co. of Baton Rouge.

There were eight bidders for the project but Magnolia's bid of $625,000 was the lowest.

Frankiewicz said Friday his recommendation for acceptance of the bid will include a couple of changes that will reduce the price of the bid by approximately $27,000.

Specific areas targeted for installation of water and fire protection services include northwest Cedar Point, all of the annexed area, and a small section of US-90 frontage.

According to Frankiewicz, approximately 10.5 miles of major water lines will be installed and 71 new fire hydrants.

Also included in the project is replacement of the water line on Main Street and the upgrading of several other lines.

"The project is designed to interface with the proposed new water well for which we expect to receive bids in March," Frankiewicz said.

He stated work on the project should begin within 30 days of acceptance of the bid, however, in addition to the council's approval, the project must also be approved by the Farmers Home Administration.

FmHA approval is necessary because approximately $600,000 of funds left over from a sewer project funded with proceeds from a FmHA loan is being used to pay for this project.

The contractor will have 210 days to complete the project.

"This project is not a Johnny-come-lately idea," Frankiewicz said.

The basic configuration of these improvements were made in 1968 when the first study was completed on the utility service extensions into the annexed area.

"To provide utility services to the annexed area, the city basically had to design a subdivision from scratch," Frankiewicz said.

"Streets, drainage, water and sewer lines all had to be installed after development and it was particularly difficult," he added.

Normally, this work is completed before any lots are sold, Frankiewicz said.

In conjunction with this water system improvements project, the city is planning to do major drainage work in the area of Tenth, Ninth, Bismark, Turner and Ioor streets.

Other work in this area planned includes sub-grade road bed preparation and asphalt paving.

Frankiewicz said a combination of city personnel, rented specialized equipment, and sub-contract work will be used in this $60,000 project.

Port commission names Olsen as new director

BY DENA BISNETTE
The Hancock County Port and Harbor Commission has selected Harold Olsen of Gulfport as its new director.

The commission named Olsen in a recessed meeting Thursday and the selection was unanimously approved by the Hancock County Board of Supervisors on Friday, present Director James DeBlanc said.

DeBlanc is retiring and Olsen will take over March 20. DeBlanc had announced his retirement several months ago, but had agreed to stay on until a new director could be found.

The new director and DeBlanc will serve together for about one week to provide an orderly transition.

The supervisors voted to set Olsen's salary at $34,000 per year, with the director to provide his own vehicle.

Olsen is presently employed with the City of Gulfport as director of the office of economic and developmental services.

"I'm very excited about it. I feel we have a lot of opportunities over here in Hancock County," Olsen said.

"As a coast resident, I am very familiar with Hancock County and I know there are a lot of things that can be done there."

The new director worked with Gulf Regional Planning Commission for about five years as an economic development specialist and during that time worked on several projects for the Hancock County Board of Supervisors.

Supervisors accept jail food proposal

BY DENA BISNETTE

The Hancock County Board of Supervisors has approved the hiring of a food service supervisor for the new county Justice Facility.

The board voted Friday to approve a request by James Odom, recently appointed warden for the new jail. Odom said he was presenting the request for Sheriff Ronald Peterson.

The warden asked that Jailer Russell Watts be named as service supervisor, with a salary of $900 per month. Watts will receive a week of training at no cost to the county.

According to Odom, the proposal is less expensive than contracting for meals. If contracts are used, someone other than a cook would have to be hired to handle produce once a proposed county farm begins operations.

The food service supervisor will operate on a basic program designed to feed sixty prisoners, with trustys being used to prepare and serve the food.

Odom explained the county presently has a prisoner who is qualified to cook for up to 1,000 people and who will serve as the jail cook.

The present food contract will be terminated.

In other business Friday, the board:

—Approved the annual county audit;

—Discussed, but took no action on an already submitted request that the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers reconsider its evaluation of damage to the county's seawalls and sand beaches;

—Accepted a bid on paving for a traffic circle in Diamondhead;

—Discussed, but took no action on estimated costs of installing climate control at a building at the Hancock County Fairgrounds;

—Received a letter stating Texas Flat Road is not considered eligible for Public Lands road maintenance funds;

—Discussed two proposals for naming all unnamed county roads and numbering structures in compliance with a 1986 state law and in preparation for an expected 1988 referendum on enhanced 911 emergency service, then accepted a proposal from Jackson consultant Ray Eaton;

—Accepted the resignation of County Sanitarian Louis Fernandez;

—Discussed a possible need for a traffic light at Drinkwater Road near Hancock Medical Center;

—Authorized County Engineer Larry Seal to prepare specifications for bid advertisements on Kiln-Delisle Road;

—Entered into its minutes a letter from the state medical examiner designating Dr. J.D. Rutherford as regional pathologist;

—And discussed what action to take against a contractor who has allegedly left Old Dossett Road impassable after a bridge replacement project more than two years ago.

Hancock County Cancer education committee forms

A public education committee has been formed as the first in a series of programs designed to organize a Hancock County chapter of American Cancer Society.

Chairman of the group is Vira Harvey, who presided over a recent meeting where goals and objectives of the committee were outlined.

Cancer prevention information must be circulated throughout the community in order to organize a unit of the society. Harvey said committee members were assigned tasks to help promote life-saving information in the Bay-Waveland area.

Ocean-Strata Running Clubs' participation in Great American Smokeout activities was mentioned by Pete Delanie at the meeting.

Margie Welsh discussed the Extension Clubs' participation and noted the upcoming Better Health-Better Eating program co-sponsored by the Extension Club and Hancock Medical Center.

Charles Beatty explained his interest in working on exercise and fitness programs at National Space Technology Laboratories, where he works.

Myrna Bourgeois requested more information on teaching kits for high schools.

Attending the committee meeting were Welsh, Cheryl Reynolds, Martha Van Peski, JoAnn LaGasse, Toodlum Byrd, Charles Beatty, Kenzie DeLaine and Myrna Bourgeois.

Members shared ideas and opinions on the CanSurmount program to be conducted Friday at Gulf Coast Community Hospital and the community's need for such a program.

The public education committee's task is to inform people about protecting themselves against cancer through the sharing of knowledge. Last year, these programs reached 290,000 Mississippians.

American Cancer Society divisions include research, professional education, community service, patient service, management and fund-raising components.

The next meeting of the public education committee will be 11:30 a.m. Monday, March 23, at Cindy's Restaurant in Waveland Resort Inn.

Hancock North Central playground committee calls public meeting

The Hancock North Central PTO Playground Committee will hold a public meeting at 7 p.m. Tuesday in the school cafeteria to discuss new playground equipment for the elementary school.

The committee has been working to upgrade the playground in all aspects and recently inspected the equipment.

Problems found at the playground included broken swings, seesaws and merry-go-rounds, no working drinking fountains and one slide so damaged the committee members feel it is unsafe and should be removed.

In addition, at least two loads of sand are needed to go under the equipment.

The committee has met with Superintendent of Education Terrell Randolph to discuss the problem.

"The items listed for repair will be repaired immediately or as soon as possible," Randolph stated.

In addition, the committee has been researching various companies with regard to purchasing new playground equipment.

The new equipment is to be bought with funds that parents and children have helped raise during the current school year.

Refreshments will be served at the meeting.

There has been a lot of tree planting going on in the county in conjunction with Arbor Day festivities.

We have also noted the growth of several trees planted a few years ago and they appear to be doing well.

The Mississippi Forestry Department distributed quite a few trees Wednesday through the Soil Conservation Service and Extension Service.

It is good to plant and replant trees as they help add to the beauty of our area.

One of the best window displays for Mardi Gras in the area is the Hancock County Tax assessor-collector's office in Bay St. Louis.

One of Eddie Murtagh's daughters worked very hard painting the windows on Friday with Mardi Gras scenes.

The windows of the assessor-tax collector's offices are changed for the many seasons in the area and at no cost to the tax payers.

If you are driving down Main Street you may want to view the very nice Mardi Gras art.

On Friday I had a surprise visit from Larry Scharff, one of my high school classmates.

Larry was attending the American Bar Association's meeting in New Orleans.

It had been some time since I had seen Larry, who practices law in Washington D.C. and resides in nearby Virginia.

He is the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Scharff, former owners of Jitney Jungle in Bay St. Louis.

Larry was telling me about how he had worked at The Sea Coast Echo writing news during summer vacations while in school.

The newspaper was then located in the 'Echo' building on Beach Boulevard and State Street in Bay St. Louis.

Before becoming an attorney, Larry was a television newscaster and occasionally works with communications through his practice.

We managed to talk about a few of our old classmates, several of whom are still in the area. It was good to see Larry again.

Don't forget the March of Dimes benefit touch football game scheduled for 2 p.m. today at McCullough Field in Bay St. Louis.

Former 'Stars' from Bay High's Tiger and Hancock North Central's Hawks will be pitted against each other.

A donation of only 50 cents is the admission charge.

It should be a fun game. Some of the 'Stars' may find they are not as young as they feel they are. We hope to see you at the game.

ALMOST READY—Hancock Medical Center off Drinkwater Road has been approved as substantially complete. The board of supervisors granted the approval Friday at the request of Hospital Administrator Phillip Wolfe. The administrator said equipment will be moved from the old Hancock General Hospital to the new facility once paving work is complete. (Staff photo by Dena Blinette)

LINGUAL BRACES

Q: I'm an adult and would like to have my teeth straightened, but I never have because appearance is important in my job and I don't want to wear braces. Recently, I've heard about some new invisible braces. What do dentists think about them?

A: These are called lingual braces. Although they were released for use in the general public less than two years ago, they are already quite popular.

These braces are attached to the back (lingual surface) of the teeth. Most of their appeal is because they don't show, though in some cases, a slight amount of braces on the molar teeth may show.

The orthodontist may prefer to place conventional braces on the lower teeth as many people do not show their lower teeth when talking or smiling. Adults particularly like being able to have their teeth straightened without the appliances showing.

However, except for cosmetic value, lingual braces offer few advantages over conventional ones. They do one thing well: They open up bites in people who have a deep overbite which is an excessive overlap on the front teeth. However, dentists point out there are some disadvantages:

Although treatment time is similar in principle to conventional orthodontics, the cost of using "invisible" lingual appliances is higher.

This is because the appliances are more sophisticated and the personal time required by your orthodontists and his or her staff is considerably greater.

Also, lingual braces require a fair amount of care. The brackets, which are closer to the gum tissue, increase the potential for irritation, and at the same time, make it harder to keep the teeth clean.

Finally, since lingual braces are installed on the inner surface of the teeth, there are some problems that are more difficult to treat with them.

"Invisible" lingual appliances cannot be used with children whose teeth are not adequately erupted. Nor can they be used for some patients with certain types of malocclusions.

Your orthodontist will be able to tell you whether you should be treated with conventional or lingual braces.

Orthodontists generally wait for a patient to express a concern for appearance before they suggest lingual braces. And they won't recommend them for someone who is impatient about the additional care necessary.

With "invisible" appliances, a small metal bracket is attached to the lingual surface of the front teeth, metal bands are usually placed on the back teeth (molars and sometimes bicuspids). The brackets are made of a durable metal alloy what will not react to foods, or to the enamel surface of the teeth. Brackets are held in place by an adhesive that provides outstanding strength to resist the pressure of biting and chewing.

The adhesive does not permanently affect the enamel, and is removed at the completion of the orthodontic treatment.

After the brackets are placed, a resilient archwire, individually contoured by the orthodontist, is connected to each bracket, and each tooth is slowly moved during treatment into the desired alignment for better appearance and better bite (occlusion).

"Invisible braces" work on the same principle as conventional appliances so they too must be adjusted every four to six weeks. During the course of treatment, you will be asked to make follow-up appointments so the archwire tension can be readjusted as your teeth "move" to their new position.

To be a good candidate for lingual braces requires certain traits.

Adults who must present a good appearance in public are usually strongly motivated. Since lingual braces require a good deal of care, people who really want them are more successful patients.

Also, the patient should be relatively easy-going and will have to tolerate some aggravation. Lingual braces are a little more irritable to the tongue than conventional appliances. Some people could have a problem with that, but people who are really committed don't seem to mind.

Lingual braces are an incentive for people who have avoided braces because they did not want a mouth full of wires to show.

However, all conditions are not adaptable to lingual braces. The added expense and extra care they require also encourage only the truly committed.

If you think you might want lingual braces and be able to wear them, check with your orthodontist for further advice.

Tax Returns Due Soon From Farmers and Fishermen

Some farmers and commercial fishermen must file their 1986 federal income tax returns and pay any tax due by March 2, 1987, the Internal Revenue Service said.

Persons who earned at least two-thirds of their 1985 or 1986 gross income from farming or fishing and did not pay estimated tax by January 15, 1987 (or who paid by that date and underestimated their tax liability), must file their returns and pay all tax due by March 2, 1987, to avoid paying a penalty.

Free IRS Publications 225, Farmer's Tax Guide; 595, Tax Guide for Commercial Fishermen; and 505, Tax Withholding and Estimated Tax, provide additional information.

To order these publications, taxpayers should write or call the IRS.

By SENATOR MARTIN T. SMITH

When the midnight hour came Thursday, 213 Senate bills were still alive in the legislative process, having been approved by their proper committees before the deadline passed. The Senate now has one short week to take action on these bills in order for them to be sent on to the House of Representatives for consideration.

The following is a listing of just a few bills which are on the agenda for consideration by the full Senate:

- a bill to increase the amount of insurance premium taxes going into the fund for support of rural fire departments from $1.5 million to $4 million. This is not a tax increase; it simply diverts more of the taxes already being paid into this fund for distribution to rural fire departments which qualify.

- a bill requiring the State Board of Education to adopt rules to simplify and reduce the number and length of written reports required from school districts and teachers.

- a proposed amendment to the Constitution which would allow you, the voters, to decide if county and circuit court judges should be able to deny bail before an accused person's trial for crimes other than capital offenses. The Attorney General's office, which is supporting the bill, said that it is aimed at keeping drug dealers off the street. Opponents argue that a person is innocent until proven guilty and bail should not be denied before a trial.

- a bill to do away with the mandate passed last year to dispose of state parks which cost the state fund more than $2 per visitor. Proponents argue that state parks were not originally established to be profit-makers, and some of the parks in question are the only recreational sites available in some areas.

- a bill to require a reduction in insurance premiums for drivers 65 years and older who pass a motor vehicle accident prevention course approved by the Department of Safety.

- a bill to have a "Free Fishing Day" one day per year on which no one is required to have a fishing license to fish.

- a bill to change the manner in which county board of education members are elected. Members would serve four-year terms with three members elected at one election and two during another election year.

- a bill to convert student loans to interest-free scholarships if the recipients teach in the public schools of the state for a specified period of time.

- a bill to expand the Medicaid program to cover pregnant women living at the poverty level; to increase from 15 to 30 the number of hospital days covered by Medicaid for children under age five; and to raise the reimbursement rates for Medicaid-covered deliveries. The intent of this bill is to help reduce the state's infant mortality rate and the indigent care problem.

- a bill to allow left turns on red at intersections of one-way streets.

- a bill to require that certain law enforcement officials be notified upon the escape of a prisoner from the state penitentiary.

I would be glad to hear your views on any issues. You may call me at 350-3237, the Senate Judiciary Committee office, or write to me at the Mississippi State Senate, P.O. Box 1018, Jackson, Mississippi 39205.

News From The Governor's Office

Gov. Bill Allain

SPONTANEOUS RESPONSE AGAINST TAX INCREASE BILL

Last week we experienced a very encouraging phenomenon at the Governor's Office. Following passage by the Senate of a 5 cent per gallon increase in gasoline taxes, the people of Mississippi began calling our office in overwhelming numbers.

As I write this column, I can tell you that no one called asking for this tax increase, which passed the Senate on a vote of 36 in favor of the tax and 13 against.

I have heard from all types of Mississippians. A number of the people I have talked with or who have talked with my staff members are senior citizens or retirees, on fixed incomes.

Many of them have asked me how they are going to pay the additional nickel a gallon, which is estimated to cost Mississippians some $1 per purchase.

I wish I could answer these questions which are more like pleas. But I cannot. There will be no way to some Mississippians to pay this additional money, especially if the price of gallon goes up, as is presently predicted.

The response, both by telephone and in telegrams and letters, from you Mississippians who will pay this tax is the first time in the three years that I've been in office that Mississippians have responded as individuals to a proposal.

We are encouraging all of you to contact your legislators and tell them how you feel.

We remind you that I have offered a program to build highways that will not raise your taxes, but it will build some 400 miles of needed highways.

We are not trying to stop the construction of four-lane highways. Our proposal is financially sound and is aimed at solving the transportation problem without raising your taxes.

I believe the fate of this tax increase will rest with the people of Mississippi. If you will tell your legislators how you feel,

M E C Mississippi Economic Council

PUTTING THE HIGHWAY PROGRAM IN PERSPECTIVE

The Mississippi Legislature is given priority attention to a proposed 1,000-mile, four-lane highway construction program.

As the proposal works its way through the legislative process, it would be well to put the highway issue in perspective.

The appropriate perspective is that highway improvement is a statewide issue, and any highway improvement program adopted by the Legislature will benefit all Mississippi.

The proposed highway program calls for construction of highways in every section of the state, with a construction schedule to be set on a basis of priority of needs. And traffic studies clearly indicate where the needs are greatest.

Some believe the highway program is a Northeast Mississippi program, and some of the greatest highway needs are in that section of the state. Others see it as a North Mississippi program, and there are needs in both Northeast Mississippi and in the Delta.

But there are also highway improvements needed in Southeast Mississippi and in Southwest Mississippi, and these needs are included in the legislative proposals.

Failure to meet highway needs in Mississippi, wherever they are, means we all suffer.

Highway improvement is a state issue, not just a regional problem.

Domino's Pizza Team Tennis forms on Gulf Coast

Youth tennis players from Diamondhead Tennis World competed in the first tournament for Domino's Pizza Team Tennis. For six weeks, they played against players representing Gulfport Racquet Club in Gulfport and Plantation Pines Racquet Club in Long Beach.

Games were played at all three clubs. The final week Domino's Pizza provided pizza. They gave all the participants blue T-shirts.

Cameron Carraway, the Plantation Pines tennis pro, organized the first six weeks of play. He fielded two teams from Plantation Pines by using players from Coast Episcopal High School Tennis Team which he coaches and who practices at Plantation Pines.

Work is underway to begin a new series of Youth Domino's Pizza Team Tennis on the Gulf Coast. Carraway hopes to have more than one team from each club playing at different levels and to involve more clubs along the Gulf Coast.

He feels that team tennis provides good tournament playing experience for young players.

Domino's Pizza Team Tennis matches are played in leagues nationwide. Adults on the Gulf Coast are also involved in team tennis.

Mary McDonnell, the tennis pro for Diamondhead Tennis World, states that currently, on Tuesday and Thursday nights in Diamondhead, 31 adult players make up four six-member teams.

Billy Jean King narrates a video for Domino's Pizza Team Tennis. On the video she says, "Everyone who plays Domino's Pizza Team Tennis is a star." The video explains important innovations since rules vary from regular tournament play. The game is considered more social.

Each team has at least four players. The basic order of play is always the same. A match has four or five sets: doubles, singles, doubles, singles and mixed doubles. A second mixed doubles set is optional.

Play begins after a five-minute warmup with teammates is conducted instead of tournament team tennis warm-up procedure with your opponent. Game play always begins with service of the home team.

In each game, the winner is the first team to win four points. The first team to win six games, wins the set. Players are allowed free substitution during the set.

Tie breakers begin at five games all in any set. When playing tie breakers, service changes after every two services. Then after four points, the players change sides. If during the tie breaker the score becomes 4 to 4, the server serves again and the receiver chooses the forehand or backhand side of the court.

Team scores are kept cumulatively. The team that wins the most games wins the match. Since scoring is based on games won and not sets won, the score of each set is important to the team match.

After all the sets have been played, if the team score is tied, the mixed doubles players go into playing a super tie breaker. The first team to score seven points wins the match. Serves are gender to gender and follow tie breaker procedures.

More information on Domino's Pizza Team Tennis can be obtained by calling 1-800 TEAM TEN or asking any local tennis pro.

Bay Area Youth Soccer reports weekly action

Under-8 (Waveland Civic Field)

Rotary Club Strikers topped Charles H. Johnson in action Saturday 1-0 with a penalty kick by Jason Chiniche in the first quarter. The remainder of the game was a war of defenses with the Strikers finally wearing down the Speedballs and controlling the ball until the end of the game.

Richard Flowers, Striker coach, cited the following players: Jason Chiniche, Most Valuable Player, offense; David Flowers, Most Valuable Player, defense; and Michael Mancuso, Most Valuable Player, defense. Most Improved Players were Ben Ladner and Chris Bettis.

State Farm Raiders defeated Gateway Body Shop 4-0. Scoring for the Raiders were Marc Mortimer, one goal; Derek Bradley, two goals; and Kippy Chamberlain, one goal. State Farm coach Earl Gibson congratulated the whole team for excellent play even though they were outnumbered.

Under-10 (Waveland Elementary Field)

Coca-Cola Firecrackers defeated Nell Frisbie 1-0. Timmy Kingston was cited as Most Valuable Player for the Firecrackers for scoring the only and winning goal in the fourth quarter. Coach Patton for the Firecrackers congratulated Timmy Kingston for scoring the only goal in last week's game also. Patton stated the entire team played well.

Under-12 (Waveland Elementary Field)

Pat's Chevron Green Berets topped Take-One Video 1-0. Scoring for the Green Berets was Joseph Dobson. Coach Paul Raymond offered the following game highlights: "Every member of the Green Berets played their best. Although it took a team effort, I would like to single out Neil Heitzman, Jason Reisenbichler and Travis Carter for extra effort. A special recognition goes to our two goalies, Gilly Chamberlain and Nathan Middleton for excellent work."

Two games were played by the Bays Gators against the Ocean Springs Cobras in action Jan. 31. Final score in the first game was 3-1 with Lauren Weidman and Renee LeBourgeois scoring.

In the second game the final score was 4-2 with Erin O'Brien scoring four goals.

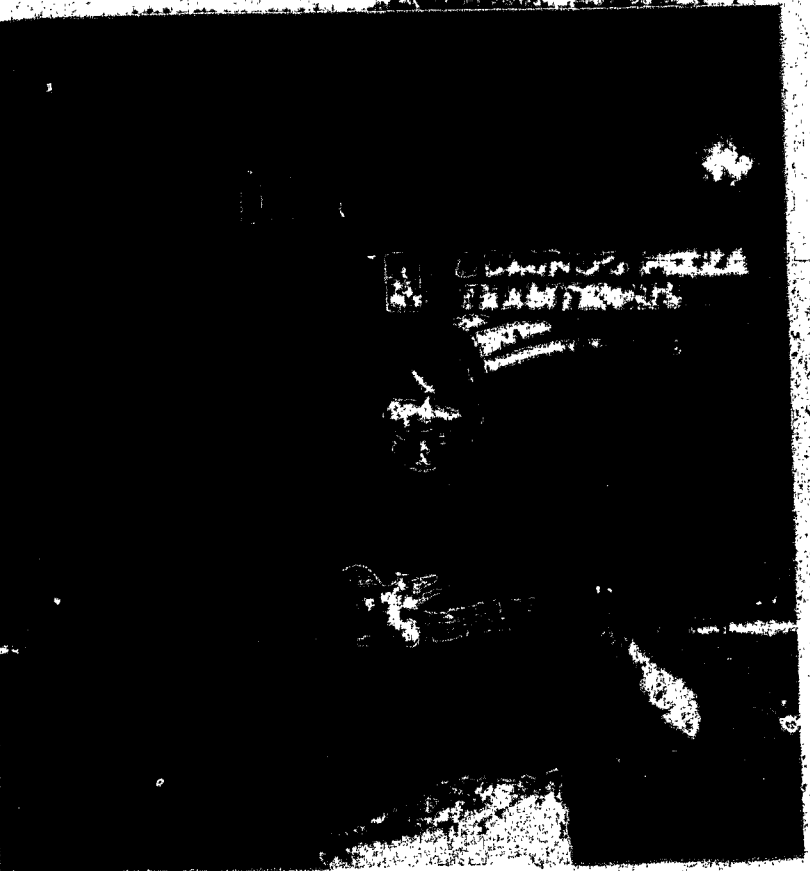

Gator coach commented on both games as follows: "The Gators faced a tough Cobra team in action Saturday. They were rewarded with back-to-back wins for all their hard work. Lauren Weidman came out strong with the first goal, her first of the season. Many shots on the Cobra goal resulted in a miskick to their goalkeeper which went in. Ocean Springs rallied back with a score before the half ended. The Gators dominated the second half with excellent passing and an impenetrable defense. Renee LeBourgeois' commitment to practice paid off when she connected with a shot from 15 yards out."

Both coaches should be happy with their between game pep talks, as the girls all came out fired up for the second game. Erin O'Brien aggressively scored the first two goals, which were answered by a Cobra goal. Jenny Krout was a much welcomed factor strengthening the defense the second half.

Amy Lee and Kristen Selle played tremendous defense both games.

Laura Felder and Erin O'Brien worked well together in the second half executing crosses for two more goals. Coach Toni Doney congratulated Kim Brashier for standing tough as the Gator goalie.

Laura Felder earns the MVP for Saturday's games. The whole Gator team is to be congratulated for dominating both games with their ball control and hustle.

CHARGING BALL—Erin Pratz hits close to the net during Domino's Pizza Team Tennis play. Pratz, an OLA senior, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh A. Pratz Jr.

UNDEFEATED—Mary McDonnell, tennis pro for Diamondhead Tennis World, chats with Doty Boyce and Ken Oglesbee. Boyce and Oglesbee were undefeated playing mixed doubles in the first Domino's Pizza Team Tennis Youth Tournament on the Gulf Coast.

Jaclyn Smith and Kmart help you beat the winter blues

Are you a victim of SAD (Seasonal Affective Disorder)? Does winter make you depressed, socially withdrawn, craving excessive amounts of food and sleep? If so, Jaclyn Smith and K mart suggest you step out of your "winter blues" and into their new spring collection.

According to an article in a recent issue of "Science News," symptoms of depression are linked to the shorter daylight and extended indoor periods of the fall and winter months. One way to combat this is to get more sunlight and spend more time outdoors.

"Not everyone has the advantage of living in a warm climate, but even a hour of working out in a spa or gym, doing aerobics, ballet or some form of exercise not only makes you feel better but can give you a more positive outlook," said Jaclyn Smith. "Schedule different activities that make you feel better about yourself. Such as, a new hair style, manicure and pedicure or a spring shopping spree," recommended Smith.

If your budget is still feeling the effects of Christmas, check out our new Jaclyn Smith Spring Collection for that spring shopping spree. This affordable, high quality merchandise is extremely versatile from sporty and casual looks to dressier items.

"The Jaclyn Smith spring collection, designed exclusively for K mart, will be introduced Feb. 1, 1987 in all 2,100 stores," said Glenn Smith, president of K mart Apparel.

The collection consists of 28 coordinated pieces designed in colors and patterns that go together. A wide variety of looks are offered, from casual shorts and polos to a dressy lined blazer and skirt complemented by a palace crepe blouse. This collection sports dazzling solids, geometric and positive-negative prints in sunny yellow, flamingo, pool blue, sand, black and white. The spring line is priced at $13.97 to $24.97 in sizes 6-16 and S-M-L.

"It's incredible how many different looks you can create from just a few pieces. They are all designed to work together," said Smith. "This means you'll get a lot of play without spending a lot of money."

"The Jaclyn Smith Collections have been a continued success since the debut of the first sportswear line in August of 1985 in 1,400 K Marts. Due to consumer demand we have expanded it to all 2,100 stores and have added shoes, hosiery, sunglasses, leotards, maternity, sleepwear and just recently handbags," said Glenn Smith.

K mart Apparel has fashion buying offices in Michigan, New Jersey and California that supply over 2,100 K mart stores nationwide with the latest in family fashions all year round.

K mart Corporation posted 1985 sales of $2.4 billion. The corporation operates over 3,600 retail outlets in all 50 states in the U.S., and Puerto Rico and Canada.

Commission Chairman Joe Marochino said he believed to recommend the zoning change would be spot zoning, which the commission is opposed to.

Also at the meeting the commission voted to recommend the zoning change on a long, narrow triangular shaped piece of property on Ulman Street near US-90.

The request was made by C. C. McDonald, who stated zoning on the property was supposed to have been changed to commercial several years ago.

"This is the closest lot to the highway but it is zoned residential instead of commercial," McDonald said.

A petition by Frank Schuffert for a Patio Subdivision on Longfellow Road was tabled at the meeting.

The commission requested Commissioner Gordon Boh to get a letter of intent from the city's Board of Variances on needed variances for the subdivision before any zoning recommendation is made.

Nutritious Can Be Delicious

The American Red Cross has now joined in our country's seemingly endless national quest for "the diet" that will help people lose weight and keep it off. Their solution is simply to teach people how to eat sensibly.

The Red Cross teamed up with the U.S. Department of Agriculture to develop a short course about the basics of eating a nutritious diet. The result is a new, six-class series called Better Eating for Better Health.

Darlene L. Underwood, Hancock County Extension home economist, says, "It teaches people more than the basic four food groups. Yet the course presents nutritional facts in easy-to-understand terms. We stress practical advice about how to apply all the facts to everyday shopping, food preparation, and eating."

The course is appropriate for singles and people who cook for a family.

For more details about Better Eating for Better Health, or to register for the next series of classes, contact Darlene Underwood at the County Extension office, or call 467-5456.

North Bay Elementary PTO holds meeting

North Bay Elementary PTO meeting was held at 7 p.m. Feb. 10. The meeting was called to order by PTO President Richard Flowers. Reverend Nathan Barber led the audience in an opening prayer.

Nursery classics were sung by the kindergarten students under the direction of music instructor Ms. Beth Randle. Rev. Barber spoke on the value and importance of having children feel they are a part of the community.

This idea would be illustrated by having the children bring canned food to the school during the first week of the month to be used in the local Food Pantry.

The motion was made and voted on to adopt the idea.

A report was given by Mr. Flowers and treasurer, Mrs. Carolyn Clemons, on the November fund raiser.

A video was shown to the audience on North Bay's observance of the first anniversary of the Space Shuttle tragedy. Attendance was taken for the attendance prize. Mrs. Brown, a kindergarten teacher, won.

An update was given by Flowers on the air conditioning and heating systems. Flowers also reported on a meeting between North Bay PTO's board, Waveland's PTO's board, a representative from Bay Junior High's PTO and Parents For Quality Education concerning a long-range building program and all-elected school board.

Flowers read to the audience his letter to the Sea Coast Echo concerning an all-elected school board.

It was announced the spaghetti supper will be Thursday night, March 26 from 5 to 8 p.m. in the North Bay cafeteria. The cost of the dinner will be $3.50 for adults and $2 for children.

A school calendar was presented to be sold as a fund raiser. The next North Bay PTO meeting was announced to be delayed due to spring break in March.

National beef cook-off introduces barbecue division

Calling all backyard cooks. The debate has raged for years—"Where in the U.S. is the best place to enjoy the backyard barbecue?"

The debate need rage no longer, the answer is at hand. The best barbecue recipes in the land will be determined at the 1987 National Beef Cook-Off in Sun Valley, Idaho, when contestants representing all 50 states compete in the all-new "Barbecue Category" of the National Beef Cook-Off.

The Barbecue Category, like the Cook-Off's regular "indoor" contest, is open to anyone 18 years or older who has a non-professional food status. Anyone who has owned one or more head of beef or dairy cattle (or who lives in a household where any person has owned cattle) in the 12 months preceding Sept. 20, 1987, is ineligible. Deadline for entry is April 1, 1987.

All recipes must contain a minimum of one pound, and no more than five pounds of beef. Each serving must contain at least three ounces of cooked beef. Meat used must be exclusively beef and all barbecue recipes are required to be cooked over Kingsford Charcoal on Weber Grills. The recipe must be specific, with no use of brand names, and must state the number of servings, cooking time and approximate preparation time. The combined cooking and preparation time is not to exceed four hours.

Contestants should send their best beef barbecue recipe utilizing any cut of beef, except organ meats, to Barbecue Category, National Beef Cook-Off, 444 N. Michigan Ave., Chicago, IL 60611. Each recipe should include a name, address, phone number and a brief statement about the recipe's origin.

Winners of seven regional contests nationwide will prepare their recipes at the National Beef Cook-Off, Sept. 20-22, 1987, in Sun Valley where they will compete for the following prize money: first place, $2,500; second place, $1,500; third place, $750.

Judging criteria for the Barbecue Category will be based on the following point structure: taste, 40 points; ease of preparation and practicality, 30 points; originality, 20 points; appearance, 10 points.

Dixieland revisited by Nereids in 21st annual Bal Masque

"And so it was...Dixieland" was the theme of the spectacular 21st annual Bal Masque of the Krewe of Nereids Saturday, Feb. 7 at the Mississippi Coast Coliseum.

The theme brought us back to the Land of Cotton where old times were certainly not forgotten by the Krewe of Nereids. The full spectrum of Dixieland—its people, its food, its music—was recounted in the tableaux through pageantry, song and dance.

Presentation of the Royal Court of 1986 recalled last year's salute to Mardi Gras itself for Nereids' 20th anniversary.

The gracious hospitality of the old South was portrayed by the krewe in front of a magnificent backdrop of a grand plantation. Officers of Nereids, dressed in picture-perfect pink antebellum gowns and wide-brimmed hats, graced the plantation lawn. They, and more southern belles in beautiful yellow and blue costumes with pantaloons and sun bonnets, were served a picnic feast.

The group enjoying a leisurely picnic suddenly became excited over the announcement "the Showboat is coming." As all ran down to the levee, the backdrop changed to a spectacular recreation of a showboat. Heralding its arrival, children attired in middy dresses danced on the levee.

The showboat was loaded with entertainment provided by the krewe. First on the bill of fare was the minstrel show, a tamborine-tapping, hand-clapping good time. Then the melodrama unfolded, and everyone joined the krewe in hissing and booing the black-cloaked villain trying to take the family homestead away. Fun-loving show girls picked up the pace with a fast moving Can-Can full of twirls, kicks and cartwheels for a delighted audience.

The showboat arrived at its destination just in time for a southern plantation wedding. Maids and dukes of the royal court portrayed Old South dignitaries invited to the wedding.

The first maid, portraying the first lady of the state of Alabama, wore a gown of rich purple and silver lace overlaying a pink underskirt. Large floral accents adorned the billowy full skirt and wide-brimmed hat.

Representing Mount Granite Plantation of Stonewall, Georgia, the second maid was dressed in a two-tone gown of peach and gold brocade and lime green lame. The dress featured a high neckline and fitted bodice accented by a v-shaped collar dipping to the waist.

The third maid wore a lavish off-the-shoulder gown of black glitter with gold dots. Gold appliques edged the neckline. Her tiara-style headpiece was crowned with black plumes. She portrayed the wife of Governor McHolloway of Tennessee.

The wedding guest from Roselawn Plantation of South Carolina was portrayed by the fourth maid wearing a read and gold brocade peplum coat dress and matching bonnet.

A brilliant blue gown of cracked ice fabric was worn by the fifth maid. It was in the off-the-shoulder style with puffed sleeves, appliqued bodice and full skirt. She represented the lady of the Riverview's End Plantation from the state of Louisiana.

The sixth maid, portraying the first lady of Mississippi, Alyce Lee Greenwood of Seven Oaks Plantation, wore a stunning gold lace dress. The gold floral lace overlayed yards of kelly green fabric. The gown had a decollete ruffled neckline and a two-tiered full skirt. Her headpiece featured green plumes.

All the maids wore hoops under their skirts as was the style of the Southern Belle giving them the illusion of floating across the coliseum floor.

Dukes of the royal court were costumed to complement their respective maids. The dukes were Mr. Philip W. Langston, Mr. Eladio E. Alcala, Dr. Allen J. Koskan Jr., Mr. Kevin R. Edwards, Mr. Daniel S. Foy Jr. and Mr. Daniel K. Handshoe.

Her Majesty, Queen Doris XXI, wore an exquisite white sheath with beaded and sequined floral appliques and beaded fringe accents. Her collar, in a petal design, was made of floral embroidered lace and was encrusted with rhinestones. The rhinestone crown she wore echoed the petal design and featured teal plumes. The elaborate train was done in teal velvet crossed with bands of silver sequins and edged in white tulle. It was adorned by a large gold sequined "N" crest with a crown.

King Nereus XXI, Mr. Joseph W. Gex, wore a tunic-style costume with regal puffed and fitted sleeves. His Majesty's mantle, crown and train matched that of his queen.

The captain wore a full-skirted gown of sheer aqua organza with free floating appliques done in soft mauve and rhinestones. Mauve plumes repeated the color story on her headpiece.

Pages to Her Majesty, Queen Doris XXI, were Master Pierre Francis Gaudin III, Miss Elizabeth Diane Masson, Master Nicholas Kirk Necaise and Miss Heather Denise Weeks.

All court costumes were designed by Carter Church and headpieces were made by Betty Starr.

Kevin Champagne choreographed the ball with the assistance of Dona Champagne. All dances were performed by krewe members.

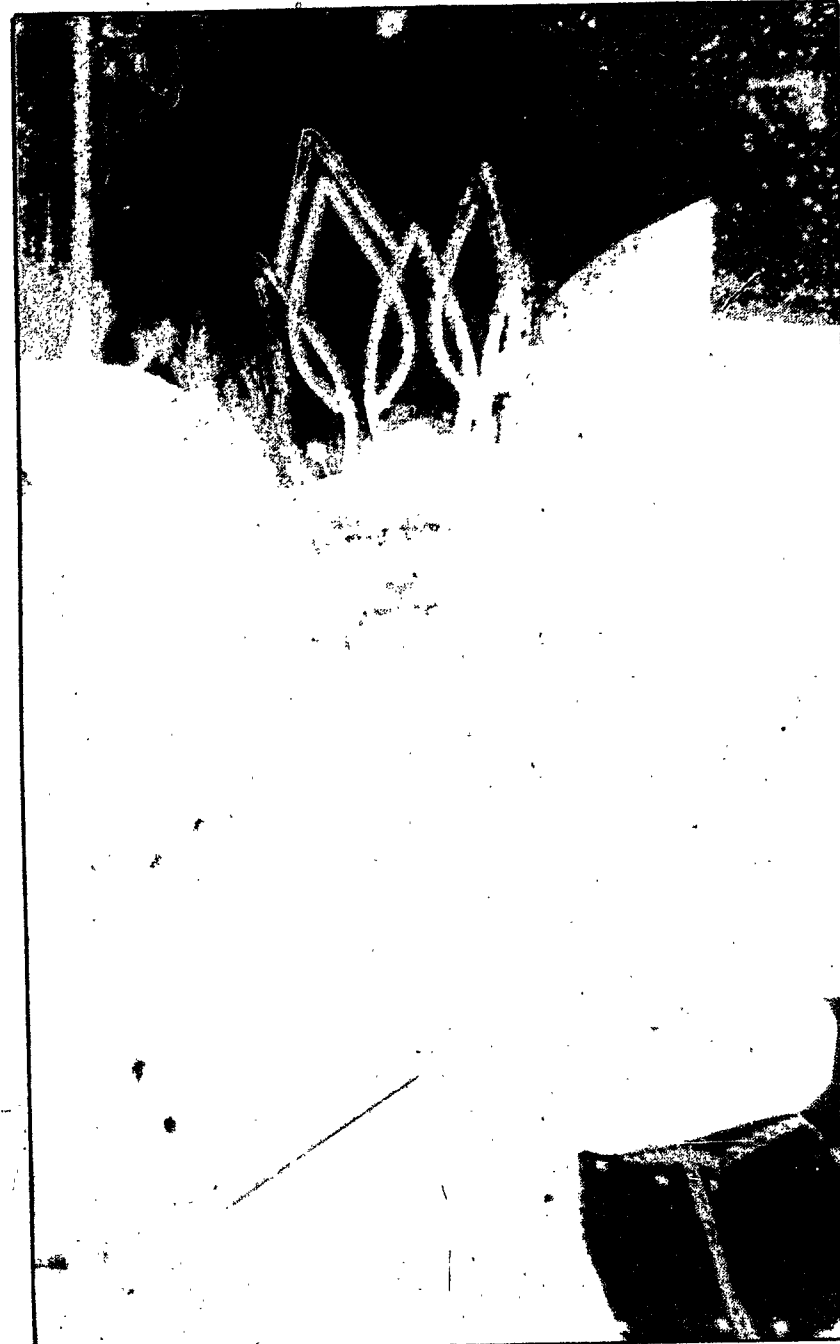

Sets were designed by Ed Scanlan.

Norris Fitzmorris was the eloquent master of ceremonies and the Jimmy Maxwell Orchestra provided music.

The Krewe of Nereids parade will begin at 2 p.m. Sunday, Feb. 22 at the Choctaw Plaza Shopping Center in Waveland.

HELP WHERE YOU NEED IT MOST.

Your pocketbook The New Delchamps has help—with pricing that's absolutely lower on every item, every day. It means we're doing business in a whole new way. A more honest way.

It's called Everyday Minimum Pricing, and it means Delchamps customers have already discovered they have the minimum total food bill every week. That's because we've introduced

EVERYDAY MINIMUM PRICING
ABSOLUTELY LOWER PRICING! S.M.

At the New Delchamps we don't have weekly specials. We don't have double coupons, games or gimmicks—they just keep your total food bill high. We DO have pricing that's absolutely lower on every item, every day. So you get the minimum total food bill. Every week.
